ENERGY USAGE & HELPFUL TOOLS

We've seen several hot, muggy days this summer. These hot days can make our AC units work extra hard and cause our energy bills to rise. During hot times like these, use SmartHub. This is our online bill pay portal—but it's really much more than that. SmartHub actually shows the total amount of energy you use each day. Take a look at your usage graph to see how much energy you've used on those hot days—daily temperatures are shown too.

PATRONAGE

We need your help! A list of former members with unclaimed patronage capital has been posted on our website. The direct link is listed down below. Please take a look and help us track down these individuals. In most cases former members have relocated and not updated their address with us. If you see a name you recognize, please ask them to contact us directly.

Congrats!

Take a look at the September issue of Wisconsin Energy Cooperative News to see photos of the 2019 scholarship recipients.

MEMBER SURVEY

You may have been contacted at the end of March to participate in our member survey. We're looking for your feedback again as we complete the second half of the survey. Participants are randomly selected and will be contacted via telephone or email. If you are contacted, we would appreciate your feedback on how you think we're doing. The survey should only take a few minutes to complete.

STUFF THE BUS

Every year Adams-Columbia asks our employees and members to donate school supplies to the areas we serve. We know that purchasing supplies for the new school year can be quite the financial burden. So we partner with area school supply drives to help ease the burden for parents and children in our service territory. This is usually run mid-July to early August. This year we were able to collect 614 school supply items.
